CROPSY, J. F., deceased

America

Born at Westfield, Richmond Co., N. Y., February 18th. 1823. He commenced the study of architecture, but was obliged to relinquish it on account of ill-health. Having received a few lessons in water-colors, he devoted himself thenceforth to landscape painting, and his third picture, a view of Greenwood Lake, in New Jersey, procured his election as associate of the Academy of Design, of which he became a full member. In 1847, ill-health compelled him to visit Europe, where he spent three years in close study of his art. Among his most successful productions, after his return to America, are the Sibyl's Temple and American Harvesting, engraved by the American Art Union; Peace and War and Niagara Falls. He revisited England in 1856. His subjects are chiefly landscapes, to which allegory and history are sometimes made accessory.

STEEN, Jan, deceased

Europe

Born in London, 1626. Died, 1679. Pictures are to be considered as satires upon vice. In this he is superior to all the other Dutch painters. Hence he is called "The Dutch Hogarth." In examining his pictures one might almost suppose that he was the inventor of gutta serena faces, and having a box full of them by his side, or else we must believe that there were an extraordinary number of ugly people in the villages of the Netherlands. Connoisseurs are particularly struck with the vivacity and liveliness of his figures. His works are highly valued.
